

SENATOR'S TALKS.

His Family Published Book and Current Political Events

Family Topic—Has not Met Boss Platts since the Book Came Out. What He Did That History Shows to Be Correct—So Long as Cleveland is President There Will Be No Silver Legislation.

New York, November 20.—Senator Sherman, of Ohio, talked freely to-day in regard to his re-election, and other matters. He said in part:

"I would like to read Mr. Platt's answer to what I stated concerning the general convention of 1888," he said in answer to a question. "The fact is, I do not know just what his explanation would be. It would be interesting to me. Personally I have nothing against him, and what I stated in my book was a matter of history. I felt that in the interest of history I should tell things as they were, and in a dispassionate way."

"Have you seen Mr. Platt since you left?"

"I saw him at a distance only," he said. "The Senator stated that he had met Mr. Harrison and Mr. Miller, and had had pleasant chats with them. He added that Mr. Miller came to his (the Senator's) room last evening, and they talked over many of the incidents of the convention of 1888. Mr. Miller's recollection of events tallied with the Senator's."

"The New York delegation," added the Senator, "had a banquet on the Saturday night before the convention of 1888, and after Senator Miller had made a speech, they all agreed to support me. I received a telegram to that effect. Sunday intervened and in the meantime Mr. Miller and other friends of Harrison got Mr. Platt to agree to vote for him on the first ballot Monday. The result is known. I have no charges to make against ex-President Harrison, and our relations are pleasant. Whatever intrigues or promises his friends might have made, I did not think he should have been, because he was elected to the Presidency."

"The action of Mr. Platt Secretary of the Treasury. The action of Mr. Platt's ambition seems to be to hold the portfolio of Secretary of the Treasury."

In regard to the national convention of 1888, when Garfield was nominated, he said that when he saw the drift was toward Garfield, he telegraphed to his friends to swing the Ohio delegation for him.

"Garfield was an able and brilliant man in some respects," he continued, "but he did not have strong will power. He permitted men of stronger will to influence him. I will remember that after he was elected President and had named Mr. Blaine as Secretary of State, he came to me and said he would like to appoint me Secretary of the Treasury, but Mr. Blaine thought it would be embarrassing to the other members of Mr. Hayes' cabinet to see one member and not take them into consideration."

"I informed him that I did not desire to be appointed Secretary of the Treasury, and announced my intention to become a candidate for the Senate. This announcement was a great surprise to him, and his friends because they had arranged to run ex-Governor James Foster for the Senate."

The Senator then turned his attention to Secretary Carlisle's speech, and made error of the speech, he maintained, was the Secretary's lack of candor. It could not be done away with. It could not be done away with. It could not be done away with."

"The great mistake was in the way the Democratic administration had handled the gold reserve. It should have issued short bonds of five years duration, which the people here have taken up quickly at three per cent, and with this, paid the expenses of the government instead of drawing on the gold reserve. These bonds, of course, would have been sold at a large tender notes. Instead of this, the administration had allowed the gold to be sold by the market, and the result was that the government was forced to issue bonds at a high rate of interest."

The Senator said he did not know where the Democrats would be able to secure the Senate. When it came to the issue of money, he said, the Democrats would be against the President. As long as Cleveland is President, he said, there would be no silver legislation, because it would sound money."

TO SUSTAIN THE LAW

Is the Only Aim of Prosecutions Against Filibusters.

Washington, November 20.—It can be definitely stated that in dealing with filibusters against Spanish authority in Cuba, the United States will not take any action for the sole purpose of securing delay in restoring arms to masters of vessels, who, upon trial, have been acquitted of the charge brought against them. Recently a United States attorney instituted a proceeding for libel against a suspected vessel, which was dismissed because of some technical irregularity. To-day he was instructed by the government to renege the proceedings and prosecute it if, in his opinion, there was reason to believe that a judgment for the government should and could be received and that no proceeding should be instituted or returned to the docket merely for the purpose of detaining arms or men or vessels. The duty and object of the government, this night authority declared, was the observance and enforcement of the laws with rigid impartiality.

TWO MEETINGS IN CHICAGO.

Bar Iron Makers Reaffirm Old Prices—Steel Castings to Advance.

Chicago, November 20.—The Merchants' Bar Iron Association concluded its meeting to-day at the Auditorium Hotel. W. E. Taylor, president of the Union Iron and Steel Company, of Youngstown, O., said that the result of the meeting had been that the members had simply affirmed their old selling prices, and that there would not be any immediate advance.

Chicago, November 20.—At a meeting of the Western Steel Association to-day it was determined to increase the price of steel castings, the increase being based on the increase in the price of iron. Before any announcement is made, a conference will be held with the Eastern association, which first proposed an increase in the price of castings.

THE MOTORMAN,

Who was Running the Ill-Fated Car That Plunged Through the Viaduct Draw, Gives His Testimony to the Coroner's Jury.

Cleveland, November 20.—The most important witness examined to-day at the coroner's inquest in the Central viaduct horror was Augustus Rogers, the motorman of the ill-fated car which plunged into the river. He testified that the conductor ran ahead when the car stopped at the safety switch and signalled him "All right." He stated that the glass in the vestibule was shattered by rain and that he did not discover that the bridge was open until his car was within about thirty feet of the gates. He then turned off the current, set the brake and jumped. He testified that he saw no red light and believed that there had been one displayed when he would have seen it. He admitted that he had been misled by the fact that the electric current cut off provided by the street railway company as a safeguard was out of order.

Two other witnesses examined to-day swore that the red light was displayed over the gates when the car struck them.

In the afternoon several witnesses were examined to ascertain whether the red danger light was on the closed gates before the motor car went through them. Most of the testimony was that the light was in place. A battered lantern, still retaining fragments of a red globe, which had been fished out of the river under the drawbridge, was identified by the bridge captain as the one which was on the gates.

A SUIT AGAINST ELKINS.

A Rather Complicated Land Deal to be Straightened Out by the Courts.

New York, November 20.—The hearing of a suit in which Wm. C. Revere sues United States Senator Stephen B. Elkins, of West Virginia, to recover an interest claimed by him in certain lands in New Mexico, and also for an accounting, was commenced to-day before Judge Patterson, in Supreme Court. It is claimed by the plaintiff that in 1871 Mr. Elkins purchased some land in New Mexico, in which the plaintiff was to have an interest of one-third and that a deed to that effect was executed, under which his interest in the land was to be held in trust for him by the defendant. Mr. Elkins, he alleges, has sold a portion of the land and has received a considerable amount from its sale, for which he has never accounted.

Sensor Elkins acknowledges that he purchased the lands, and that on October 17 he signed a deed under which Revere was to become entitled to one-third of the lands on paying him $125 an acre for them. This, he avers, was the only paper he ever executed. The plaintiff, the defendant alleges, agreed to pay this price for it, and said he expected to pay the $125 per acre in a short time, but never did so.

He finally told the defendant he was not in a position to carry out his agreement and relinquished his interest in the lands. Under these circumstances Senator Elkins says he sold the portion of the lands claimed by Revere to T. B. Catron, on the same conditions as they had been previously held by the plaintiff, who, he states, has now no interest in the property. He also pleads that Revere's claim is barred by the statute of limitations. The case has not been concluded.

RAILROAD SYSTEM SOLD.

Greenwood, S. C., November 20.—The whole system of the Port Royal and Western Carolina railroad was sold to-day by Special Master Theodore G. Barker for $2,650,000 to John W. Hutchinson, Jr., for Samuel Thomas and Thomas F. Ryan. Only one bid was offered.

DER BOSS PRESIDENT IN LUCK.

In the Circuit Court at St. Louis yesterday afternoon a jury gave President Chris Von Der Ahe, of the St. Louis Browns, judgment for $2,794.50 against the National League baseball club of Washington, D. C. This suit dates back to 1891 and grew out of the fight between the National League and the American Association.

REFORMS AGAIN PROMISED.

The Sultan Takes Armenian Affairs Into His Own Hands.

Order to be Restored—The Sultan has Submitted by the Armenians as Being Sanctioned by the Reforms—The Armenians Now the Grave Danger to Turkey.

Constantinople, November 20.—A dispatch from Tiflis, Russian Transcaucasia, says that the Armenian Catholicos has received a reply from the communication which he recently sent to the Russian ambassador here, M. de Nefedoff. It is as follows:

"The Armenians of Constantinople are now reassured. They are threatened with no danger in the provinces, however, there are regrettable conflicts which in most cases were caused by the Armenians who were instigated by their revolutionary committees. The result is a terrible revenge upon the part of the Turks, in the shape of horrible massacres of Christians."

"The Sultan has sanctioned the scheme for reforms submitted by the three great powers, and preparations are now proceeding to carry them out. To this end it is necessary that the leaders of the people should persuade them to desist from revolutionary attempts, to abandon the idle hope of foreign intervention, to put a stop to all disturbances, and to co-operate in the re-establishment of universal peace, in improving the situation, and in the introduction of the new order of things."

"The attitude of the Sultan has undergone a decided change since the other fleets began to join the British fleet in the naval demonstration in Salonica Bay. There is no doubt that the pressure brought to bear upon the Sultan has been strong enough to make him take personal charge of the work of reform in Armenia, and it is now hoped that there will be no further bloodshed, except in the case of putting down the insurrections which have broken out against Turkish rule in different parts of Asia Minor. It is hoped, however, that the Armenian clergy will be able to induce their co-religionists to lay down their arms, especially as the sentiment of the whole of Europe is now in favor of the Sultan, whose evident desire to meet the views of the powers is appreciated, and has undoubtedly aided over a difficult crisis in European politics."

There is no longer any talk of the armed intervention of the powers in the Turkish empire, and if any display of force is necessary upon the part of Europe it might be in the direction of supporting the authority of the Sultan, as Great Britain, Russia and France are extremely desirous that order should promptly be restored throughout Asia Minor.

RUSTEM PASHA'S DEATH.

His Demise Generally Regretted in British Official Circles.

London, November 20.—The death of Rustem Pasha, the Turkish ambassador to London, which occurred early this morning, had been anticipated for some time. His demise is generally regretted in official circles, as his upright conduct and generous disposition were appreciated by all, and his good qualities were frequently referred to by the Marquis of Salisbury in the speech which he delivered yesterday at Brighton.

He was an Italian by birth, and before entering the service of the Turkish government, bore the title of Count Malini. He particularly distinguished himself as the Governor of Lebanon, where he put an end to corruption and prompted very healthy reforms in all departments of the government. He was particularly friendly to Americans, the skill of Dr. George E. Post, of the American College, at Beyrout, having saved him from the loss of his arm after he had accidentally shot himself.

CHOLERA WIPED OUT.

Japan Practically Free From the Scourge—600 Men Killed.

Victoria, B. C., November 20.—The empress of China just arrived from the Orient, reports cholera practically extinguished in Japan, and very interesting developments in the eastern situation.

All the Asiatic coast, when she sailed, was looking to Kin-Chow, where, on October 18, a combined boiler and magazine explosion on the troop ship Kung-Pai sent 600 men to death. The affair was fraught with peculiar horror, as a rough sea was raging and there was no chance of life overboard. The boilers were old and unserviceable, and ordinary caution would have prevented the catastrophe.

AFFAIRS IN CUBA.

The Union Party Declares Its Allegiance to Campos.

Madrid, November 20.—According to a dispatch from Havana the Constitutional Union party, of Cuba, at a meeting recently held at Matanzas, renewed its adhesion to the government and Gen. de Campos and expressed confidence that reforms would be introduced at the opportune moment.

The advice from Cuba adds that Maximo Gomez, the insurgent leader, has refused orders for the destruction by fire of plantations, and threatening with death all who assist in gathering the crops. The purpose of this order is to deprive the Spanish army of means of subsistence in the field.

SAILORS MADE IT LIVELY.

Bangkok, Siam, November 20.—Nine sailors belonging to the French gunboat Vipere, paraded the town last evening, assaulted several people and stole liquor from various stores. Finally they attacked a police constable attached to the British legation, who, after declaring himself to be a police officer, was attacked and his skull fractured by the disorderly sailors. The latter are now in irons.

MISS CAMPBELL'S WILL.

How She Disposes of Her Fortune of Over $100,000.

Ironton, O., Nov. 20.—The will of Miss Clara Campbell was presented for probate to-day. Her jewels, of which she had given collection of the choicest collections of Europe, are bequeathed to Nora Scott, Elizabeth McClure, Florence Campbell, Alice Campbell Neal and Mrs. Mary Lillian Neal Hunter, of London, England. Her brothers, Charles Campbell, of Ironton, and Albert Campbell, of Chicago, are to receive but $500 each, while her cousins, Jane, Laura and Elizabeth McClure, get an annuity of $365 jointly. The large share of her fortune, estimated at $100,000, goes to the Neal girls, and upon their death the principal and proceeds shall be converted into money and paid to the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the M. E. Church, incorporated under the laws of Ohio. The balance of the estate is bequeathed to the International Missionary Alliance, incorporated under the laws of New York. Wm. A. Murdock, of this city, is named as executor and trustee.

ON DECEMBER 6,

Harry Hayward, the Brutal Murderer of Catherine Gings, Will Swing at a Rope's End and Pay the Penalty of His Crime.

Minneapolis, Minn., November 20.—The last hope that remained to Harry Hayward for his life was wrested from him when the Supreme Court this morning handed down a long opinion affirming the action of the lower court in denying him a new trial.

The court is unanimous in its opinion save in one finding as to the responsibility of Mrs. Hazeltine's evidence, as to which Chief Justice Start dissents. The court finds no error in the conduct of the trial and in excluding testimony as to the sanity of Adry Hayward while on the stand when no foundation had been laid as to his previous mental condition. It was also proper to exclude the evidence as to insanity in the family under the circumstances. The distinction between insanity as a direct issue and as a collateral one affecting the competency of a witness is noted.

Harry Hayward turned pale when the decision was announced to him but would say nothing more than "It was just what I expected." He is apparently without hope. Gov. Clough will fix execution for December 6th.

BLENHEIM

Is not Mortgaged, and the Duke did Not Get a Shilling of His Wife's Money—The Marriage Settlement all Goes to the Duchess Personally.

London, November 20.—Mr. Robert Harding Milward, the Duke of Marlborough's lawyer, who represented him in New York when the marriage settlements were signed, previous to the Duke's marriage to Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, in an interview here to-day is quoted as saying that the rumors current as to the amount of the settlements were grossly untrue. He also desired to officially contradict the statement that there is a heavy mortgage on the Blenheim estates, and added that the Duke of Marlborough declined to touch a shilling of the bride's money, and that the whole of it is settled upon her in the ordinary way.

Akron, O., November 20.—John Tod, of Cleveland, vice president, was to-day appointed receiver of the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio Railroad. The indebtedness is $125,000,000 and the desire is that the company may be wound up previous to its absorption by the newly organized Erie Company.

New York, November 20.—W. H. Crossman & Bro. will export $1,000,000 gold on the steamer Furst Bismarck sailing to-morrow.

Washington, November 20.—The treasury to-day lost $1,000,000 in gold for export, which leaves the true amount of the gold reserve at the close of the business $35,802,534.

SEVERE IN CLEVELAND.

Cleveland, O., November 20.—A snow storm accompanied by a fierce northwesterly gale has prevailed on Lake Erie since midnight, causing such a tremendous sea that very few vessels are attempting to enter or leave the harbor. It is believed, however, that a number of boats were caught out in the gale.

IMPRISONMENT FOR LIFE

Stores the Three Boy Train Wreckers in the Face.

Rome, N. Y., November 20.—Hildreth, Hubbard and Lato, three of the lads implicated in the wrecking of the New York Central train near this place Tuesday morning, have made a full confession. Bristol, the fourth of the gang, denies his guilt. They will be put on trial for murder in the first degree, but owing to their youth it is likely that they will be only convicted of murder in the second degree, the penalty for which is imprisonment for life.

Hildreth told the officers to-day that the attempt to wreck a train ten days ago was directed against the one which passes Rome for the East at 12:22 a. m., and which often carries rich express bullion.

Later the boys changed their minds, and decided that the mail train would be better, because, besides the mail, the passengers were likely to be wealthy people.

CONFUSION

In the Coal Trade Expected to Follow the Action of DeArmitt—Has Set the Rate at 59 Cents.

Pittsburg, November 20.—It is learned from W. P. DeArmitt, president of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal Company, that he has made a contract with his miners for one year from November 6, whereby he agrees to pay them 59 cents per ton. This is an increase of nine cents per ton for his men but still falls five cents short of the present rate.

At the last conference between operators and miners it was decided to fix the rate for the district definitely on the first Tuesday of December and at the same meeting a resolution was passed by which both sides agreed that whatever rate the New York and Cleveland Coal Company adopted in December, it should be the prevailing rate for the district.

As the miners fully expected that the rate would be made 69 cents or more, it remains to be seen whether or not the resolution will be carried out.

The conference between operators and miners is set for next Tuesday, and in order to discuss Mr. DeArmitt's latest move, the miners have called a convention for that day.

General confusion in the coal district is expected to follow the conference.

TOOK A FATEFUL TUMBLE.

A Rent in a Pair of Bicycle Trousers Leads to a Divorce.

A Decidedly Novel Line of Circumstances Which Led up to the Discovery of a Wife's Faithlessness. A Bad Place to Carry One's Love Letters.

Chicago, November 20.—A rent in the bicycle trousers of Wm. Wallace was the indirect means of bringing out a decree of divorce to-day.

Last summer, Wallace and his friend, Benjamin Fisher, were scorching along the street, when Wallace fell off and wrecked his trousers so badly that he scorched holes—than ever to get out of the way of the police.

He went to his friend, James Hull, and applied for the loan of a pair of bicycle trousers.

Hull accommodated him, and soon Wallace and Fisher went scorching once more.

Wallace felt something bulky in the pocket of Hull's trousers, and on investigation found it to be a letter from Fisher's wife to the owner of the trousers.

Then more scorching was in order, while the husband sought Hull and satisfaction.

He failed to find the man and went to his wife.

She is a truthful woman, and Fisher began proceedings for a divorce, which was granted him to-day.

Mrs. Fisher is in Atlanta, Ga., and her husband still has possession of the fatal trousers.

OLD MAN WAS HOT,

And to Better Express His Rage, He Burned a Few of His Subjects at the Stake and Tortured Others. The Son May be Banished.

London, November 20.—The Evening News publishes a letter from Quetta, a small town of Belochistan, near the Afghanistan frontier, which states that the Amer of Afghanistan is greatly annoyed at the failure of Nazrullah Khan, his second son, to arrange for a permanent representative in London during his recent visit to England. In consequence of the rage of the Amer of Afghanistan, many persons have been burned alive, a great number of his subjects have been imprisoned, while many others have fled from the country. A notable who accompanied Prince Nazrullah on the occasion of his visit to England named Kotwal, is to be tortured as soon as he arrives at Quail. It is expected that Nazrullah Khan himself will be punished, and that possibly he will be banished from Afghanistan.

A COLONEL'S CARELESSNESS,

Causes Serious Losses to the Cuban Insurgents—How They Were Surprised.

Pittsburg, Pa., November 20.—The Dispatch to-morrow will publish a letter from its special Cuban correspondent who is on the field near Cumanagagua, in which he gives details of a battle at Julia near Cienfuegos. He says the insurgents, numbering 450, well armed, were defeated by 150 Spanish soldiers through the negligence of the insurgent commander, Col. Jose Gonzales, who failed to mount any guard for protection of his camp. When the Spanish forces, who had made a forced march during the night, surprised the camp in the early morning by firing from an adjoining hill, the insurgent officers and men ineffectively fled, save only forty-two infantrymen, whom Captain Juan Jose Campillo hastily organized, and who kept the Spaniards in check for an hour, thus saving the disorganized retreat of the rest of their force from being turned into a slaughter. The retreat of the infantry was later made in good order.

Only 250 of the 450 insurgents had come into camp by the next day, but it is not believed they were killed, as most of the fighting was between the forty-two insurgents and Spaniards, both sides well covered.

The Cuban forces here swear vengeance upon Col. Gonzales, and he will probably be shot.
